ISAIAH PIPER,
H. C. WOODWARD,
A. L. BEAN,
} Selectmen of Belmont.

Belmont, March 1, 1883.

Report of the Superintendent of Schools.

To the inhabitants of Belmont, N. H., the following school report is respectfully submitted:

District No. 1.

The summer term was taught by Miss Grace A. Vaughan of Laconia. This was Miss Vaughan's first term, and she was quite successful. We would suggest a little more careful discipline; however, we believe that very good progress was made in all branches studied.

Many friends were present at the close of the term, and all of the exercises were pleasing, and quite satisfactory. Miss Vaughan is a good scholar.

The autumn term was taught by Miss Ada F. Randlett of Belmont. We were much pleased with the school, at the time of our first visit. Several scholars from this district entered the Laconia High School, leaving a smaller number than usual. Near the close of the term, the school was dismissed for a few days, to attend a Musical Convention; and at our last visit, some were still absent, leaving but a small number to recite. We felt very sorry to find so few; but we were pleased with the work performed during the term. Miss Randlett has taught several terms with good success.

District No. 2.

The school for the year was included in an autumn term of about three months, taught by Miss Emma M. Britton of Belmont. Miss Britton is a fine scholar, a good teacher, and a young lady of high esteem.

We were glad to find a good number of faithful scholars; but very sorry to learn that, near the close of the term, a few were quite unfaithful to their teacher, their schoolmates, and themselves. We have good reasons for believing that this unfaithfulness was due, almost wholly, to a sad lack of proper restraint, and good influence at home. It is much better for all to carry a good influence into school, than to take a bad one out. We consider this school one of the most successful in town, for the year.

District No. 3.

The summer term was taught by Miss Addie F. Gile of Belmont. This was Miss Gile's first school, and as it was in her own district, and as she was quite young also, some solicitude was felt for her success; but we believe that she led the little ones in her care, gently and surely onward in the way of knowledge. Good order prevailed. May strength be granted her for many years of prosperity.

The autumn school was under the care and instruction of Mr. Asa Gile of Belmont. The term was long, and quite an addition to the number of scholars was made by the coming of a family to the district.

Mr. Gile did well as a teacher. Good order and good progress were found in this, his first school.

District No. 4.

The summer and winter terms were under the care of Miss Louise A. Eaton of Belmont. In the last report, we spoke of some difficulties in this school. We are glad to report that good order and harmony prevailed, and that success attended teacher and scholars during this year. Miss Eaton has well earned the reputation which she bears, as a successful disciplinarian, and an excellent teacher.

The record of more than fifty terms, mostly in her own town, would assure prosperity in fifty more. Scholars are her jewels.

District No. 5.

Grammar School. The summer term was under the instruction of Mr. Selden J. Gould of Belmont. Pleasant associations existing between teacher and pupils in the past, were renewed and continued during this term. Every seat was occupied, and the teacher would thank pupils, and all other friends, for the interest manifested by them.

The winter term was taught by Mr. George H. Ingalls of Canterbury. Mr. Ingalls has taught several terms before, and we believe that he has begun well. We had the pleasure of visiting this school several times; once, with Hon. J. W. Patterson, superintendent of public instruction.

It was our united opinion that too many classes were formed; however, we think that quite good progress was made.

Primary School. The summer and winter terms were taught by Miss Carrie E. Moore of Gilmanton. The room was full during the summer term. There were not quite so many little ones during the winter, but a good number came to renew former pleasant acquaintance, and take new steps in the path of knowledge. The teacher of this school occupies a very responsible position. Miss Moore succeeded quite well.

District No. 6.

The summer and autumn terms were under the instruction of Miss Mary A. Rollins of Tilton. This school was small, but a good amount of faithful work was accomplished, during the year. Teacher and scholars are worthy of high commendation. Miss Rollins has begun teaching well.

District No. 7.

The summer term was taught by Miss Ada F. Randlett of Belmont. Very meritorious work was done by teacher and scholars. We were much pleased with the promptness which was shown at the examination. This was one of our most pleasant summer terms.

The autumn term was taught by Miss Idella M. Drew of Gilmanton. A good number of studious and obedient pupils were found in this school room. Nearly all had met the same kind teacher before, and seemed glad to renew a very pleasant acquaintance. A beautiful testimonial of esteem was presented to the teacher, by the pupils and other friends, during the closing exercises of the term. The examinations were very thorough and satisfactory. Miss Drew was one of our best teachers for the year. Parents aided much in the good work performed in this district.

District No. 8.

The summer and autumn terms were under the efficient direction of Mrs. Myrtie J. Holman of Belmont. Success attended the efforts of teacher and pupils. Good order was maintained, and thorough advancement was made. This was one of our most successful schools.

District No. 9.

The school for the year was included in an autumn term, continuing between three and four months, taught by Mr. Selden J. Gould of Belmont. Memories of other terms, during which many of the same pupils had received instruction from this teacher, were refreshed, and we trust that all were mutually benefited.

District No. 10.

There was one term, taught in autumn, by Miss Olive E. Sanborn of Gilmanton. Some doubts were entertained in regard to this enterprise, because some in the district did not give it a hearty approval at first, but the prudence and wisdom of the teacher enabled her to win the respect and love of nearly all. Miss Sanborn is a good scholar, and a kind and earnest teacher. Good order was found, and good progress was made, during a term of nearly three months.

District No. 11.

The school for the year was included in an autumn term of about three months, and was taught by Miss Frances M. Heath of Belmont. Several scholars came from other districts, increasing the number and interest of this school. Miss Heath has had a long and pleasant experience as a teacher.

We would congratulate her upon her success in teaching, and also upon her happy, and we trust, more permanent union with the interests of this district. We hope that she will not forsake the little school, which has so long received her kind and faithful instruction.

District No. 12.

All of the school in this district was taught in a summer term of about two months, by Miss Mary E. Badger of Belmont. This was Miss Badger's first school, and we think it was a good and successful effort. The school was small, and consequently required some skill on the part of the teacher to awaken and maintain a good interest. We believe that good improvement was made by the little ones.

We believe that our schools have been quite successful as a whole. We feel gratified to report good improvement throughout the town. We have endeavored to secure a uniformity of text books. For this purpose, we have completed the exchange of readers, began two years ago, by our predecessor. There is now a uniformity of all the text books used in all of the districts in town.

We retire from the responsible position to which you have twice called us, with many thanks and kind wishes.

SELDEN J. GOULD. Supt. of Schools.

Belmont, N. H., March 1, 1883.
